

Emergency Out of Country Coverage

 co-operators

Keep this brochure and a copy of your Emergency Medical Travel Assistance card with your passport so that you or anyone you're travelling with can get assistance for you in case of an emergency. Please note, Out of Country coverage is only available if your group plan has this benefit.

What is Emergency Out of Country coverage?

Whether you travel within Canada or to another country for vacation, business or to study, you're prepared for an unexpected medical emergency with Emergency Out of Country coverage through your Co-operators group health care plan. When you travel, your provincial health care plan only covers you to an extent. Emergency Out of Country coverage takes care of many additional expenses related to emergency medical treatment.

Access to help whenever you need it

While you are travelling, help is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, through our travel partner, Allianz Global Assistance. Call the number on your Emergency Medical Travel Assistance card for help finding a local medical service provider, confirming coverage, arranging advance payment, and finding service in a language other than English. Allianz Global Assistance will also keep track of the care and services you receive, and ensure you, your family, the attending doctor and your doctor in Canada are informed of your progress. Note: If you are admitted to hospital in an emergency, someone must notify the emergency travel assistance service within 48 hours, or your benefits may be limited.

Eligibility requirements

To remain eligible for this benefit and services:

1. You must maintain your government health insurance plan.
2. You must not travel beyond the maximum number of consecutive out-of-province days as outlined in your benefits booklet.

There may be other limitations such as age restrictions and dollar limitations. Refer to your benefits booklet for details or contact the Group Client Service Centre at 1-800-667-8164 (Monday to Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. ET).

What is considered a medical emergency?

A medical emergency is either a sudden, unexpected injury, or a sudden, unexpected sickness or acute episode of disease, that could not have been reasonably anticipated based on the covered person's prior medical condition.

Emergency medical care is covered medical treatment that is provided as a result of, and immediately following, a medical emergency and does not include medical attention for the monitoring of a stabilized condition.

Once the initial emergency treatment for a condition is completed, any ongoing medical treatment related to that condition is NOT covered.

When is a pre-existing medical condition considered stable and controlled?

A pre-existing medical condition must be stable and controlled for 90 days prior to your trip departure for it to be considered for coverage. A medical condition is considered stable and controlled when:

- Your condition has not worsened
- You have consistently been taking any medication prescribed by your doctor
- Your doctor has not prescribed or recommended any medical, surgical or diagnostic procedure
- You have not had any new treatments, medications or changes in dosage

What if a medication or dosage changes?

There are times when a medication or dosage change does not impact the stability of a medical condition such as:

- Changing from a brand name to a generic equivalent medication
- New medication prescribed because the drug manufacturer has discontinued the drug or there is a declared national shortage of the medication
- Aspirin, vitamins and minerals taken for non-prescribed medical purposes
- Topical creams or ointments prescribed for skin irritations
- Routine adjustment of insulin or blood thinner
- Decrease in cholesterol medication
- Dosage change of thyroid or hormone replacement therapy medication

Covered services

Co-operators provides the following coverage, in excess of your provincial health plan, during emergency medical treatment:

- Treatment by a physician
- Diagnostic x-ray and laboratory services
- Approved hospital accommodation in a standard or semi-private ward or intensive care unit, if the confinement begins while you are insured under this benefit provision
- Medical supplies and paramedical services provided during a covered hospital confinement
- Hospital outpatient services and supplies, including out-of-hospital services of a professional nurse
- Medical supplies provided out of hospital if they would have been covered in Canada
- Prescription drugs
- Ambulance services by a licensed ambulance company to the nearest centre where essential treatment is available
- Dental accident treatment if it would have been covered in Canada under the Extended Health Care Provision of your policy

Example of expenses not covered

- Continued medical care following an emergency outside Canada if the patient's condition allows them to return to Canada
- Non-emergency care or follow-up after the initial emergency treatment
- Illness that poses an immediate threat to a person's life or long-term health that could have been reasonably anticipated based on the person's prior medical condition
- Medical attention for monitoring a pre-existing or chronic condition
- Any elective medical treatment
- Expenses incurred while relocating to another country

If a medical emergency occurs

Call Allianz Global Assistance at the number on your card immediately before seeking medical treatment. If you or someone on your behalf cannot contact Allianz Global Assistance prior to receiving medical treatment, contact them as soon as possible to avoid reduced coverage.

How to submit a claim

Here are some things to keep in mind to help ensure your claim is managed efficiently, and that you do not have to pay any unnecessary, out-of-pocket expenses.

Call to report a claim

If you have a claim, call Allianz Global Assistance at the number on your card and have the following information ready:

1. Your group policy number and certificate number
2. Plan member's name
3. Patient's name and date of birth
4. Provincial health insurance number
5. Location of the emergency
6. Nature of the emergency
7. Reason for travel
8. Patient's date of departure from home and scheduled return date
9. Name, address and/or phone number of the patient's family physician in Canada
10. Indicate whether the patient has any other types of coverage (e.g., other group insurance or credit card insurance)

If you have to pay directly

Allianz Global Assistance will set your service provider up for direct billing to save you out of pocket expenses. There are some health care providers that will not accept direct payment from a benefits provider and will request payment up front. In this case, pay for the expenses yourself, then submit all paid invoices and receipts to Allianz Global Assistance. Be sure to keep copies of your receipts and claim forms, as the originals will not be returned.

Mail your claim information to:

Allianz Global Assistance
PO BOX 277
Waterloo, ON Canada
N2J 4A4

Allianz Global Assistance will assist regardless of the dollar amount of your claim, and arrange to pay for all eligible emergency medical expenses whenever possible. They will also coordinate, where appropriate, payment of the claim on your behalf with your government health insurance plan.

Reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses is based on reasonable and customary charges as determined by Co-operators. Reimbursement is in Canadian funds and is based on the rate of exchange at time of claim. Claims must be filed within the appropriate time frame as noted in your benefits booklet.

If you are admitted to a hospital

Hospitals will not accept your Emergency Medical Travel Assistance card as proof of medical coverage, but will use it to call Allianz Global Assistance, who will then verify your coverage.

If the hospital will not discharge you without payment, Allianz Global Assistance will provide a guarantee of payment letter from Co-operators. If this letter is not accepted by the hospital, it is your responsibility to arrange payment for all bills upon discharge.

Travelling to foreign countries

Some governments require all foreign travellers and emigrants to carry a valid medical travel insurance policy to enter the country. You may be required to show proof of insurance valid for the duration of your stay; if you do not have proper coverage, you will have to purchase a policy from a local insurance company. Login to Benefits Now® for Plan Members before you leave to print a letter confirming your Emergency Out of Country coverage under your Co-operators group benefit plan.

While a confirmation letter qualifies as proof of insurance, Co-operators cannot guarantee that you will not be required to purchase additional insurance upon arrival.

Before your departure

As you plan for your trip, take the time to:

1. Read your benefits booklet to get familiar with the details about your Emergency Out of Country coverage.
2. Find out what the passport, visa, vaccination and inoculation requirements are for your destination. Speak to your travel provider or visit travel.gc.ca for details on any travelling restrictions that may have been issued.
3. Give someone at home a copy of your passport and itinerary, in case they are lost or stolen.
4. Make sure those travelling with you are aware of all of your necessary personal information so they can call for help on your behalf.
5. Note the travel assistance provider's contact numbers on your card. Keep your travel assist card with you.

When to purchase additional travel coverage

Co-operators group health care plan provides comprehensive out-of-country coverage for emergencies that occur when you're travelling temporarily outside of Canada. However, it is impossible to foresee all the costs you may incur. To help you plan, review the maximums, reimbursement levels and trip duration applicable under your group health care coverage, outlined in your benefits booklet.

Your group insurance coverage does not include coverage for trip cancellation or lost baggage, so you may want to consider purchasing additional travel insurance. Visit cooperators.ca/en/insurance/travel for more information.

Travel Benefits Plus

Travel Benefits Plus covers expenses such as emergency medical transportation, return transportation for family members, return of a vehicle and more. Refer to your benefit booklet to determine if your plan includes this coverage.

Coverage limitations:

This brochure provides a brief summary of the available services; read your policy booklet or speak to your plan administrator for the complete terms of the policy, information on specific limits and maximums, and details relating to limitations and exclusions. The master policy, as amended from time to time, takes precedence as the final basis for all claims settlements.

Neither Allianz Global Assistance nor Co-operators Life Insurance Company are liable for conditions, events or factors that delay, interfere, or prevent the provision of these services.

Neither Allianz Global Assistance nor Co-operators Life Insurance Company are responsible for the availability, quality, or results of any medical treatment received by you or your covered dependents, or the failure to obtain medical treatment or emergency assistance services for any reason.

Co-operators Life Insurance Company and Allianz Global Assistance, in conjunction with the attending physician, reserve the right to return the covered person to his or her province of residence for ongoing treatment. Refusal to comply with the transfer request will end Co-operators Life Insurance Company's liability. The immediate availability of care, treatment or surgery on return to the province of residence is not the responsibility of Co-operators Life Insurance Company or Allianz Global Assistance.

Emergency medical travel assistance is provided to you and your dependents while travelling outside your province of residence for specified periods of time, according to the plan selected by your employer. See your benefit booklet for details on the length of time that coverage is provided.

Some of the listed services may be limited or suspended in the event of circumstances beyond Co-operators Life Insurance Company's or Allianz Global Assistance's control, such as; war, insurrection, foreign hostility, riot, rebellion, military uprising, labour disturbances, marshal law, strikes, nuclear accidents, or acts of God.
